General Manager

Due to retirement along with on-going investment and growth within our company, we require a General Manager to work within our long established Sub-Contract Precision Machining Engineering Organisation.

The successful candidate must:-

- Have excellent communication skills and be able to demonstrate strong leadership qualities.
- Have experience of working within the Sub-Contract sector manufacturing components for various industries.
- Develop new business opportunities and further strengthen existing customer relationships.
- Be able to operate and adhere to ISO 9001 & OHSAS 18001 standards.
- Demonstrate aptitude for developing new and improving existing manufacturing processes.

You will possess a proven track record within a similar engineering environment.

Excellent salary and benefits package.
